About Split Payments

Australia's First Open Banking Payments Platform, Split Payments seamlessly connects businesses and consumers directly with the Australian banking system – creating an entirely new approach to direct entry banking. We've created an Open Banking API that makes bank transfers faster, more visible and easier to manage than card payments – but with significantly lower transaction costs. When you combine this with sophisticated features including Direct Debit Consent Management and Instant Account Verification, the possibilities are endless.

Our mission is to reimagine global banking infrastructures through deep tech innovation and create a new era of digital banking.
